NAVAL DOCKYARDS.

Will One be Constructed on Burrard Inlet?—Completion of the Railway.

The Most Strategetic Center on the Pacific Coast Near the Terminus.

The announcement made a few days since that Captain Hayter, of the Royal Engineers had arrived in Ottawa from the West Indies, and that he was under instructions to proceed to this province with the view of making a thorough inspection of the British Columbia Coast line for naval defence purposes, has had the effect of drawing attention to the statements contained in Mr. Sanford Fleming's work, "Old to New Westminster" relative to Burrard Inlet as the site for a naval dockyard. In that work Mr. Fleming says: "An important result, of more than ordinary Imperial interest, is attain ' by the construction of the Canadian Pacific railway. Halifax, with its admirable harbor, is the headquarters of the North American fleet. * * * If the British fleet is to rendezvous in Pacific waters, it must be plain that the same opportuniti for repair and renewal of stores must be extended, and in proportion that the distance from England is greater, the more positive demand exists for a completely equipped dockyard on the Pacific coast. Naval and military men have come to the one conclusion on the subject: that the Imperial dockyard should be as near as practicable to the terminus of the railway. Indeed it must be evident to all that where there is a naval station with war vessels on active service, there must be the means of re-fitting and renovation in a locality central and accessible, and one perfectly defensible. Capt. Colomb, in reference to Imperial and Colonial responsibility in war, has remarked "that an absolute necessity exists for the erection of

at the other side of the world, which would relieve the pressure on home dockyards, and fulfill duties they cannot perform, and in peace offer commercial advantages of construction and repair to ships of the mercantile marine." Then Admiral Wayne, who reports with respect to the fleet in Chinese waters says: "Our ships there, which are sometimes almost disabled from sickness, could reach the healthy climate of Vancouver in six weeks, and might, if required, be relieved by vessels of the Pacific squadron. Vessels have been ordered to Esquimalt from China with crews greatly debilitated, and afterwards return with all hands in perfect health."

The construction of the railway, with its terminus established on Burrard Inlet, has totally changed all the circumstances which hitherto had obtained prominence. It is now held that the naval dock yard should be on Burrard Inlet, near the terminus. The site has been pointed out by Major-General Laurie, and advocated by him in a carefully written paper, in which both the question of the necessity of such a dock yard and the site itself are fully discussed.

THE SPOT ON BURRARD INLET

described by General Laurie is held to be eligible in every point of view. It is defensable by land and by sea, with good anchorage in front. It is situated on the north shore, west of the North arm, so far within the Inlet as to be inassailable by cruisers, except at the risk of the total destruction, unapproachable by surprise by land, and in close proximity to the terminus of the railway; while at the mouth of the Inlet batteries can be constructed to make entry next to impossible. It must also be borne in mind that Burrard Inlet is directly opposite to the COAL FIELDS OF NANAIMO.

Coal is even to be found in Burrard Inlet itself, and in moden naval warfare coal is an important article of equipment. Indeed it may be said to take priority, for without fuel no vessel of modern construction can move from her anchorage. The supply of coal, therefore, becomes of primary consideration, and the source where it can be obtained is of special value, and has jealously to be protected.

These views of naval and military men have been evidently echoed by all who have studied the question. It is on all sides an accepted opinion that, with the completion of the railway, bringing British Columbia within twelve or fifteen days of England, the terminus on Burrard Inlet becomes the most important strategetic centre on the Pacific Ocean.

Mr. Onderdonk at Ottawa.

The Toronto Globe of the 22nd inst., says: Mr. Onderdonk, Contractor for British Columbia section of the Canadian Pacific railway, is here making arrangements to have that portion of the C. P. R. taken over by the Government. It is expected that a million or so will be placed in next year's estimates to cover Mr. Onderdonk's claims for extras. So long as their countryman, Mr. John Henry Pope, presides over the Railway Department Yankee contractors will be refused nothing they may ask. It is observed also that Mr. Onderdonk is renewing his acquaintances with Tory wirepullers and subsidy brokers.

The Tea Cargo.

The Portland News says: "Capt. Henry L. Hoyt, a custom house broker of this city, will leave here to-day for Port Townsend, to arrange for the trans-shipment of the cargo of tea due at Tacoma, on the bark Isabel, some time this week. The tea will be examined and unloaded at Tacoma and placed in bonded cars and shipped to its destination in the east, under the supervision of the custom house officers. Tea is admitted free of duty, but is subject to examination, according to a special act of Congress, which prohibits the importation of the article if adulterated."

"Facts are stubborn things," and sufferers from chills and fever generally find their complaint a very stubborn fact, until they commence the use of Ayer's Ague Cure. That medicine eradicates the noxious poison from the system, and invariably cures the worst cases.

The return of the traffic of the Canadian Pacific railroad for the week ending July 18th, was $206,000 for 1886, and $153,000 for the corresponding week of last year, showing an increase of $53,000.

As well expect life without air, as health without pure blood. Cleanse the blood with Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

To THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES.

SIR:—There is no part of the civilized world where the people can boast of justice being meted out with a more impartial hand than under the British flag. We, in British Columbia, form part of those blessed with the protection of that flag, which never allows its subjects to be treated with impunity in any other than a proper manner. Having these patent facts before us, occasionally one is staggered at the apparent miscarriage of justice; even in this favored province. It seems to me, judging from information, if correct, which has come to my knowledge, that injustice has been extended to a worthy citizen of this district, which happened in the following manner: Last year a man named Manson assaulted another by the name of Helt, by going into his house and knocking him senseless, and then he proceeded to drag Helt out of his house, when Manson was prevented from doing Helt further injury by a Siwash who happened to be present. Helt then had a summons issued against Manson, and served it himself, riding 21 mil both ways to do so, for which he was allowed the munificent sum of $2. The case was tried and Manson was mulct in the sum of $22, fine and costs, while Helt was $42 out of pocket in bringing the culprit to justice. Now, sir, as laymen cannot understand our boasted British justice, of this discriminating character, to put it on a business basis, why, I ask, should the injured and assaulted party be compelled to be $42 poorer, while the aggressor gets off by the payment of $22? As British subjects, each and all of us have a right to expect, nay, to demand, that our wrongs shall be redressed, but certainly not at the expense of the injured; that the evil doer and law breaker shall be made to suffer, at least as far as any pecuniary outlay is concerned. Nothing less is the people of this district prepared to accept. FAIR PLAY.

Clinton, July 20th, 1885.

THE CITY COUNCIL.

A Mild Meeting in which Little was Done.

The regular weekly meeting of the City Council was held last night. Present: Mayor Rithet and Councillors McKillican, Earle, Teague, Braden, Ward and Warner.

Minutes of former meetings read and approved.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From Mrs. Montaro in reference to the alleged nuisance on her premises, stating that she was unable to comply with the order owing to financial inability. On motion she was given ten days to remove the nuisance before proceedings would be taken.

Captain Wolfenden and members of B. C. G. A., inviting the Mayor and Council to their picnic. Invitation accepted with thanks.

From Mr. Ed. Wassell, in reference to his proposals for drainage, and stating that he was now in possession of the required data for the construction of an efficient system of sewerage, and was prepared to undertake it whenever the Council were ready to go on with the work. Referred to Committee on drainage, sewerage and street levels.

From Coghlan & Mason, asking why the water was turned off from Mr. Mason's dwelling and also from the brickyard. Referred to the water committee.

From Mr. Humber, applying for water during the building of a brick house and church on the Gorge road, and that the water be not turned off his brickyard during that time. Referred to the water committee.

From Wm. Stewart, tendering his resignation as a Police Constable, to take effect on the 31st July. Resignation accepted and applications to be received for the vacant position on Wednesday next.

From John Teague, architect, applying, on behalf of A. DeCosmos, for permission to excavate on the side of Government street for a new building. Granted.

From Wm. T. Whiteway, asking for the use of Government street during the erection of same building. Granted.

From Dr. Jackson, Health Officer, reporting a nuisance at the rear of Mr. Levy's premises. The usual notices were ordered to be issued for its removal forthwith.

From Dr. Jackson, calling attention to the condition of the gutter on the west side of Broad street, which is in a filthy condition. Referred to the street committee.

From Wm. Wilson and others, asking that the brush be cleared from Michigan street. Referred to street committee.

From J. McArthur and others, calling attention to the unhealthy condition of the drain on John street and asking for the building of a sidewalk. Referred to street committee.

WATER WANTED.

Councillor Warner said that a gentle man, Mr. Griffith, building a house on First street, wanted the water pipes to be laid to the premises, and offering to pay one-half of the cost of $50, a refund to be allowed him as more revenue was derived from the the residents.

Councillor McKillican thought the applicant had a right to demand the water, as he was in the city limits.

Councillor Ward said that the four inch pipe had been laid on King's road with the view of laying branches therefrom, and that the proposition would only entail an expense of $5 on the corporation.

Referred to water committee with power to act.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Councillor Ward said that it was arranged at a late special meeting that the consideration of the financial report was to be taken up next Friday, but suggested that it would be more convenient to the councillors to take it up at next regular meeting. Agreed to.

Councillor Earle submitted a statement of the work ordered to be done by the street committee, aggregating $8,240. Laid on the table for further consideration.

Councillor Ward said that the Chinese nuisance near Mr. Duck's property has not been abated.

Mayor Rithet said that application had been made for the use of the hall on next Monday evening, to give Messrs. Shakespeare and Baker an opportunity to explain their conduct at Ottawa during the late session. Request granted.

Adjourned.

Families requiring sugar for preserving fruits, &c., can obtain it at wholesale prices at FELL & Co.'s, Fort street.

THE LUMBER INDUSTRY.

The Agitation of the People Compels the Government to Rescind an Objectionable Law.

The Views of Loggers and Mill Owners Acceded to—Thanks to Our Representatives.

The Toronto Mail's Ottawa correspondent pays a high compliment to British Columbia's representatives to Ottawa, saying they leave that city quite happy over the results of the session. They have at last secured the passage of a Chinese Immigration Restriction Act, concessions from the government in the Franchise Act and a change in the regulations affecting Dominion lands within the railway belt.

The department, with a desire to meet the views of the

of the section of British Columbia chiefly affected injuriously by the regulations of April, 1885, has decided to exempt that portion of the mainland of which New Westminster is the centre from the operation of these regulations. In official language, "Clause 39 of the regulations of April 20 is rescinded, and in lieu thereof a clause is substituted providing that the provisions of the act of the Legislature of British Columbia, chapter 32, acts of 1884, entitled, an Act relating to the cutting of timber upon provincial lands, and for the purpose of deriving a revenue therefrom, shall govern the mode of disposal and the rents, dues and charges upon the timber lands in the railway belt in British Columbia lying south of 49 degrees 25 minutes, north latitude, and west of the 121st degree of west long. tude." In short, the Department adopts the provincial regulations for the railway lands lying west of the 121st degree of longitude, and south of the aforesaid line of latitude—a small strip on the map, but one in which are timber lands sufficient to supply the great mills at the mouth and lower waters of the Fraser. As to all the rest of the Dominion timber the continue to apply both as to lands lying east of the 120th degree and as to lands lying west of that degree. This will insure sufficient protection to the valuable estate of the Dominion outside of the limits set apart for the use of the great saw mills on the lower Fraser, while at the same time giving the loggers and others interested in the lumber industry on that river an equal chance with the same classes on the railway belt along the deeply-indented, forest-covered coasts of the mainland of the province. The fees prescribed by the province and adopted by the Dominion for the narrow belt lying north of the boundary line and west of the 121st degree of longitude are as follows: Annual license, $10. Stumpage, 15 cents per tree. Timber dues, 10 cents per 1000 feet b. m. The area of each timber license is one thousand acres, the time for which is four years; no person is entitled to more than one license.

Reference is likewise made to the change made

AFFECTING HOMESTEADS

In the regulations (which appeared in yesterday's TIMES). The provisions by which a homestead right would be conferred, through the erection of a habitable house, and cropping and breaking land, are repealed, and all that is required in such cases is proof of residence for not less than three months next prior to date of application.

It will thus be seen that the representatives of British Columbia have secured boons of no ordinary value for their province from the Dominion Government and Parliament, and are thereby able to assure their people that the Federal Government is ready and willing to meet their views in every possible way, and that in this wise policy it is backed up by the supporters of the Government in all other parts of the Dominion.

Work on the Streets.

At the City Council last night, Mr. Earle, Chairman of the Street Committee, submitted a statement of the work ordered to be done on the streets of the city up to the present time as follows:

The Torpedo Boats.

The two torpedo boats, Swift and Sure, arrived in Esquimalt this morning, accompanied by the war frigate, Satellite. These wonderful little crafts, the first of the kind ever seen in these waters, were built in England for the government of Chili and sent to Valparaiso in sections. They were there put together and tested, when the growing troubles with Russia caused the home government to make a liberal offer for them, which was accepted. A late issue of THE TIMES contained a minute description of these boats, which represent a system of warfare as yet untried. The voyage from San Francisco to Esquimalt was accompanied without difficulty. The tiny little crafts will be objects of much interest to our citizens and the many visitors who come to Victoria.

A serious accident occurred at the dry dock yesterday afternoon by a stick of timber falling and striking a French Canadian workman, whose name we could not ascertain, on the head, knocking him insensible and inflicting an ugly wound. The force of the blow on the head was so great that the man's ankle-joint was dislocated and fractured by the concussion. Dr. Milne was called to attend him and he was afterwards removed to St. Joseph's Hospital. He is to-day in a very precarious condition, suffering from concussion of the brain; but slight hopes are entertained of his recovery.

THE WIDE WORLD.

THIS DAY'S DESPATCHES.

The Mail Subsidy Difficulty.

Special to the TIMES.

CHICAGO, July 30.—A Times Washington special says: The half dozen American steamship lines that have been trying for three months to coerce the Postmaster-General into dividing up the $400,000 Congress put at his disposal really as a subsidy, but ostensibly to enable him to get the mails carried in American ships, still hang together in their concerted operations, and have refused to accept the postmaster's proposition, which was that they carry the mails for the sea and inland for the total postage on mail matter carried by them. The pooled lines want a payment per mile, which would make the transportation of one letter cost as much as the transportation of a ton of letters. The Postmaster-General has had the names of all the steamship companies that have refused his proposition stricken from the schedule of mail departures for August. In July there were thirty-seven sailings of mail steamers from New York for ports in the West Indies, Mexico, Central and South America. In August there will only be eighteen mails carried on five American lines. Nineteen sailings in the month will be divided among the steamers some of which are American and some foreign, that make the other eighteen sailings. The lines that are stopped are the Pacific Mail, Red Star, New York and Cuba, New York, Havana and Mexican and the Clyde. From San Francisco westward, there will be 4 sailings instead of 6; the Pacific Mail sailings for Honolulu, Sydney and Auckland and for New Zealand and Australia are dropped. The two Pacific Mail sailings from San Francisco for Panama and way ports are also dropped. From New York to Aspinwall mails will be sent direct by the fast line and indirectly by Jamaica. There does not appear to be any mail at San Francisco for Panama, although there will be one sailing for Mexican ports.

The Postmaster-General has received a memorial from the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce asking him to subsidize the Pacific Mail and the Australian line, on account of the value of this line to the commerce of the Pacific coast. He replied that he has already decided that he had no authority to subsidize any steamship line, and that he had already offered compensation for the work of carrying mails, and further than that he did not feel he had a right to go. The Pacific Mail made a monthly sailing for Australia which will be discontinued and the mail matter will go by weekly mail by Brindisi altogether. The latter is a longer route. The fact that it is weekly instead of monthly will make it equally expeditious for the greater proportion of the mail matter sent from the United States to Australia and New Zealand via England, Brindisi and Suez Canal, has been reduced from 15 to 12 cents, making it uniform with the rate via San Francisco.

Terrible Domestic Tragedy Near Montreal.

MONTREAL, July 28.—William Desplaces and Kimball Rocelle, French Canadian farmers, living ten miles from here, near the town of Valois, were actors in a terrible tragedy yesterday. Desplaces was married to an attractive woman, in whose fidelity he had until recently every confidence. He was in the habit of employing all the time he could spare from his farming operations in traveling through the country with a peddler's pack, and his absences were sometimes extended. He was lately told by neighbors that young Rocelle was a frequent visitor at his house during his absence. Two or three days ago he started on one of his peddling trips, telling his wife that he would not be back for a week. Last night he returned, and his worst fears were realized. Frenzied with rage, he shot and killed the couple, without awakening them, and sent a bullet into his own brain, falling dead instantly.

Riel's Trial—The Jurors.

REGINA, July 28.—The trial of Riel was resumed to-day. A jury were chosen as follows: Henry J. Plinter, Ed. E. Verret, Ed. J. Brooks, Walter Merryfield, Paul Dean and Francis Cosgrove. The Crown objected to Demetrious Woodward; sustained. Counsel for the defense exercised the right of peremptory challenge for five, one less than allowed.

Within an hour after the marriage ceremony of Princess Beatrice a tumultuous crowd entered the church and stripped it of its decorations. The police were powerless.

Sir Moses Montefiore died at his residence, Ramsgate, at 4:30 on Tuesday afternoon. Sir Moses had reached the extraordinary age of one hundred years. About the time that Victoria ascended the throne he was Lord Mayor of London, and he was then a man of over fifty. His life has been one long period of labor for the amelioration of the condition of his fellow men, and his death will be mourned, not by one nation alone, but by the people of the world.

Gladstone in a letter to the Manchester electors, expresses his confident belief that the newly enfranchised electors will show their preference for Liberal men and Liberal measures. He says he looks forward also with assured confidence to the result of the general election.

Address, THE TIMES P. & P. CO., Victoria, B. C.

J. C. McLAGAN, Manager.

MAJOR GRENFELL telegraphs from Assouan July 22, that messengers from Gabra report that EL MAHDI died of smallpox June 29th.

THE report of the ceremonies attending the marriage of the Princess BEATRICE and PRINCE HENRY of BATTENBURG, states that the Queen gave the bride away. That was certainly unkind of the Queen.

EDWARD JENKINS, author of "Ginx's Baby," formerly a Liberal, and at one time a representative for Dundee, Scotland, recently stumped County Down in the interest of the Tory candidate. JENKINS is the son of a Presbyterian clergyman in Montreal.

AFTER PRINCE HENRY of Battenburg gets his garter there will be no more to give until a death occurs among the companions. There were only three garters vacant, and the Marquis of Northampton got one, the Earl of Sefton the other, and Battenburg is to have the third.

THE daughters of the Prince of Wales are brought up in the most simple manner. The three sisters occupy one large bedroom, furnished very plainly. They lead so quiet a life that they are still children, although the eldest is seventeen. They are constantly with their mother, forming a charming group.

THE death of SENATOR CHAPAIS leaves four senatorships vacant—two in Ontario and two in Quebec. The Ontario vacancies are those caused by the death of MESSRS. SIMPSON and BENSON, and the two Quebec seats have been rendered vacant by the death of MR. CHAPAIS and the appointment of MR. MASSON to the Lieutenant-Governorship.

THE increased subsidy to members of the Commons and Senators is creating much discussion and comment in the east. The legislators gave themselves $140,000 and $20,000 to GENERAL MIDDLETON. Nobody remembers an occasion where these able-bodied legislators refunded $500 each to their country because the session was shorter than usual.

NEVER in the history of Toronto did the city present such a gay appearance as on the occasion of the arrival there of the volunteers from the Northwest. The people seemed to have gone heart and soul into the decorating business with effective results. The reception promises to eclipse any demonstration ever witnessed before. The excitement is at fever heat.

A SAN FRANCISCO paper says:—"There are thousands of square miles of territory in this State which are practically unknown to the prospector. It is estimated that the land in the north of California and south of Oregon, which is not yet penetrated by railroad, is as large as the whole State of Pennsylvania, and there are tracts of country in the south nearly unknown that are as large as many of the Eastern States.

BY a recent interpretation by the Customs Department the phrase "damask of cotton" is held to include damask tabling, napkins, doyles, table-cloths and similar articles; and "All fabrics composed wholly or in part of wool," is held to include woollen table and piano covers and similar articles not elsewhere specified in the tariff rates. Crash and huckaback towels in the piece are now classed at a 20 per cent duty, and all other towelings at 25 per cent.

ACCORDING to the latest reports of the Department of Agriculture at Washington there has been no improvement in the prospects of the winter wheat crop but rather the reverse. In some States the harvest has been a total failure and in others great damage has been done by the rains. Michigan is the only State that will harvest a full crop. As to the spring wheat crop it is now approaching its most critical stage. The area is somewhat less than last year, and while giving unusual promise, in some sections it is reported thin, and weedy in others. With favorable weather till harvested it would make a good crop. Outside of winter wheat the crop outlook is encouraging.

CANADA'S VOLUNTEERS.

On the return of the volunteers to Winnipeg, GEN. MIDDLETON made the following reply to the addresses presented him by the Mayor and Corporation of that city: In the name of my comrades and myself, I beg to return you our most sincere and warm thanks for the kind way in which you have appreciated our labors in the late campaign, as evinced by the extreme warmth and enthusiasm with which you have received the troops on entering Winnipeg. I can only say that as regards what you have said about myself personally, I have done my very best to carry out the duties that I was called upon to perform by Canada. I was perfectly willing to do all I could as the head of the forces sent into the field—but the head may devise and have no arm to bring into force what the head does so devise. I had an arm to strike and put into execution what my head had devised—and that arm, as you see behind me, was the Canadian soldiers. Ladies and gentlemen, those volunteers, as you know, were called away from their peaceful duties—from their offices—have undergone the tremendous hardships and difficulties attendant upon a campaign such as we have just gone through, and, ladies and gentlemen, they not only went through them and underwent all those hardships and difficulties, but they did it cheerfully. From the time I first commenced I have never heard one single grumble from the men under my command. And when I look back and think what has been done by these purely civilian volunteers, really all I can say is I think Canada may congratulate herself upon her sons. And I may congratulate myself upon having been lucky enough to be appointed to command these troops. One thing I would like, before concluding, to point out to you. As I say, war has not often been carried out in this country particularly by your own people, therefore your thanks and mine and the thanks of Canada are due to those men who have performed the arduous and wearisome task of remaining at the base of operations, of covering the line of communication. A line must be kept open—the base must be guarded—prisoners and wounded must be guarded—provisions must be sent forward, and without troops that cannot be done. All were anxious, as I know, to my cost, by telegrams and letters innumerable, to get to the front, but all could not get. You little know not only of the annoyance and disappointment of those men and officers, but also the noble way in which they all put their shoulder to the wheel and worked at the duty which has been assigned them of forwarding provisions, unloading steamers in the middle of the coldest weather, getting into the water, having forced marches, harassed by false alarms. All this has been done willingly and without murmur by those troops who were appointed to do it. In one sense, they showed a keener appreciation of the duties of soldiers than those who were so pleased on going to the front. The transport must be attended to, the medical department also, and no army could move a yard in this country if they had not been. So those soldiers who looked after them deserve, and I sure obtain, at your hands the same thanks. I again beg to thank you, on my own part, most warmly and sincerely for the very great kindness and enthusiasm you have shown. It has well repaid the Canadian militia for any hardship they have undergone. I thank you very much."

PARNELL GAINS A POINT.

The new British administration has given a quasi assent to the proposition of the Parnellites to investigate the late criminal administration of EARL SPENCER at Dublin during his regency. The Tories are divided on this subject, such journals as the St. James Gazette and the Saturday Review taking strong grounds against any review of the action of SPENCER imprisoning certain parties in consequence of the Maamtrasna, Castle Island and other murder cases. The Parnellites insist that the parties are wrongfully imprisoned, and they seem likely to have the matter reviewed. It seems strange that the Tories, or the official portion of them, should be taking a pro-Irish position; and yet the Irish question has developed to the point where the position of a political party on that subject is almost decisive of its continuance or failure in power. LORD CHURCHILL has wrought the change in his party's position, and the recent debates show that a very influential Tory element is in favor of attempting to govern Ireland more in accordance with the wishes of the Irish people. Hence the Tory support of the land purchase bill and other ameliorative measures whose inception was in the Liberal party. LORD CARNARVON has fallen in with the tendency of his party, and, although the movement is probably an electioneering trick, the Irish leaders do not care. They will take all the fish that come into their net from whatever source. MICHAEL DAVITT and a few other malcontents still clamor in the old style, but MR. PARNELL'S scheme of reform, by legitimate parliamentary action, is the winning game.

A CORRESPONDENT writing from London, is convinced that Canadian Pacific shares, through land sales and growth of business will be worth par long ere the three per cent Dominion guarantee expires. He says: MR. STEPHEN, when I ventured to remonstrate with him some time ago for not accepting terms which would have made the shares worth 75 at once, replied that he would not take 150 for his! Time will show whether such a sanguine view will prove correct. I am bound to say that MR. STEPHEN has been unwavering in his confidence.

KING'S EVIL

Was the name formerly given to Scrofula because of a superstition that it could be cured by a king's touch. The world is wiser now, and knows that can only be cured by a thorough purification of the blood. If this is neglected, the disease perpetuates its taint through generation after generation. Among its earlier symptomatic developments are Eczema, Cutaneous Eruptions, Tumors, Boils, Carbuncles, Erysipelas, Purulent Ulcers, Nervous and Physical Collapse, etc. If allowed to continue, Rheumatism, Scrofulous Catarrh, Kidney and Liver Diseases, Tubercular Consumption, and various other dangerous or fatal maladies, are produced by it.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

Is the only powerful and always reliable blood-purifying medicine. It is so effectual an alterative that it eradicates from the system Hereditary Scrofula, and the kindred poisons of contagious diseases and mercury. At the same time it enriches and vitalizes the blood, restoring healthful action to the vital organs and rejuvenating the entire system. This great is composed of the genuine Honduras Sarsaparilla, with Yellow Dock, Stillingia, the Iodides of Potassium and Iron, and other ingredients of great potency, carefully and scientifically compounded. Its formula is generally known to the medical profession, and the best physicians constantly prescribe AYER'S SARSAPARILLA as an Absolute Cure

For all diseases caused by the vitiation of the blood. It is concentrated to the highest practicable degree, far beyond any other preparation for which like effects are claimed, and is therefore the cheapest, as well as the best blood purifying medicine, in the world.

THE GOVERNMENT DEFEAT.

The government were defeated on the 23rd inst., by a vote of 180 to 130 on a clause of the medical relief bill. The Parnellites opposed the government. On the announcement of the result of the division, the Ministers held hurried consultation, and SIR MICHAEL HICKS-BEACH announced the government relinquished responsibility for the bill. SIR WILLIAM HARCOURT immediately accepted the responsibility on behalf of the opposition. The discussion of the bill was then continued, MR. COLLINGS moving the amendments put down in the name of MR. BALFOUR, who had charge of the bill. MR. LABOUCHERE started an exciting debate, in which the Liberals tried to induce the government to state whether it intended to oppose the bill. Eventually SIR MICHAEL HICKS-BEACH promised to make a statement the next day. An amendment to the rejected clause is almost certain to be rejected in the House of Lords, and a confab will thus be raised between the two houses. The Cabinet will consider what course to pursue in regard to the bill. They will probably decide to accept the decision of the House, and go on with the bill.

DIAMOND FIELDS.

THE PROCESS OF MINING AS CONDUCTED IN SOUTH AFRICA.

The Result of a Boer Girl's Discovery—Steady Fall in the Price of Diamonds—From $15 Down to $3.75.

[Chicago Times.]

A letter in The London Times from the diamond fields gives us some interesting particulars of the business. The discovery of these shining gems reminds one of the Indian in Brazil who first found one of them in the roots of a shrub he had pulled up and took it home as a plaything for his children. A Boer girl in 1867 found the first diamond, also in the roots of a tree, and human nature having its weak side in that rude section of the world as well as in London, Paris, and New York, she adorned herself with it and made a sensation among the kraals of Boer society. It did not take long for the news to spread. The great grassy plain where the gem was found was soon covered with prospectors, armed with picks and spades, every man for himself.

After the yellow surface soil had been exhausted a blue soil was found which was still richer in diamonds. This blue soil was observed to exist in large circular deposits which geology soon defined as the remnants of mud volcanoes. A regular community began to center about the locality, and the land-owners, private individuals, corporations, and even governments commenced squabbling over the claims, which at last succeeded the organization of companies for mutual defense, and now the whole diamond area is worked by these companies with elaborate machinery. The manner of the working is thus described:

"Round each great basin or quarry is a circle of steam engines working wire-rope lifts up and down to the bottom of the quarry; and round the brink run locomotives and trains of trucks, whisking the 'blue' so brought up away to be spread out like so much manure over the veldt, and to be taken thence, when duly disintegrated by the weather, broken up by hand, and harrowed and rolled, to the washing places where it is all sent by hydraulic action through a series of rotatory sieves and pulsators on the principle of, in successive mechanical operations, washing away all dirt that is lighter than diamonds.

"The washers are so arranged that the outfall of each portion is graduated in size, and falls on a series of sorting tables. At these stand five or six of the principal men—owners and directors of companies among them—spreading out the clean washed stuff graduated from the size of pebbles to that of sand; and the visitor may stand by in wonder to see the searcher at the one end pick out his eight or ten 'big' stones per hour, or ass'st the searcher at the other busily sorting out of the sand innumerable white specks of diamonds. The day's work, tumbled into small snuff-boxes, while frequently reach a local value of 1,000 pounds sterling.

"None can fail to be struck on looking into one of these great mines or quarries that the whole of that great mass of earth and rock has been dug out, pulverized, and searched for the diamonds it contains. One can look into a quarry of slate or stone and see the rocks themselves cut down and carted away for use; but in these quarries the soil and the rock are cut out and dug out—and what for? Simply that out of every 100 tons raised out of the quarry an ounce weight of diamonds may be secured."

The figures attending these operations are interesting. To dig out these quarries the labor alone has cost $75,000,000 and the machinery $5,000,000, and all this work has been expended in order that lovely woman shall be made still lovelier by personal adornment. And what has been the result? The price of diamonds has steadily fallen until the "all round price" per carat has dropped from $15 to $3.75. Prior to the African discovery the world had to be contented with an annual harvest of diamonds worth about $250,000. Only royalty and the wealthy aristocracy could afford them. Then came this wonderful discovery which supplied the world for ten years with gems to the value of $20,000,000 per annum. The market was soon overstocked and there was naturally a fall in price.

How Continents Rise and Fall.

[Boston Journal of Commerce.]

It is known that the Atlantic coast between Cape Hatteras and Cape Cod has been sinking steadily for centuries, and it is within the bounds of probability that before 2,000 years have elapsed the cities of New York and Brooklyn may be under water. When the Dutch colonized Manhattan Island 200 years ago, the Indians told them that in the time of their grandfathers that it was possible to cross Hell Gate dry shod from one bank to the other. Professor Guyot estimated that the lowering of the Atlantic coast was twenty-two and one-half inches every century. At the same time it is certain that the greater portion of the American continent is rising, while the continent of Australia is certainly sinking.

How Conkling Saw Chicago.

[Inter Ocean "Carbotone Crayons."]

Ex-Senator Conkling, when he had concluded the business that brought him to Chicago, did a thing that few other men would have thought of doing. It was a rainy, dismal day, but he started out alone and afoot to see Chicago. He spent three or four hours on the streets, taking in whatever interested him, and having his own way about the whole business. He returned to his hotel in great spirits and said to me that he had never seen Chicago so much to his satisfaction before.

DISEASE AND DIRT.

Death in a Foul Dish-Cloth—Danger from Filthy Soap—Timely Advice.

[Westminster Review.]

Judging from all past experience, a visit from the cholera scourge is only a question of time.

If through adverse storms a delay occurs in an attack from an invading army every hour should be utilized by taking such measures as will aid in repulsing the enemy.

Aided by favorable winds, we have gained an extension of time before the great plague makes its onslaught. In every kitchen there is one thing which should have attention from this time on. One source of disease which should attract the attention of every physician, every nurse, and every man and woman who cares for the preservation of health, is the dish-cloth. A foul dish-cloth has wrapped up in it the germs of more kinds of malignant diseases than all other things in a household. A foul dish-cloth is a perfect hot-bed that breeds cholera, scarlet fever, typhoid fever, diphtheria, etc. A dish-cloth which a housekeeper would be ashamed to bring into her parlor to show to visitors is not fit for use, and should be burned as soon as this article is read; I, for one, would not be willing to eat food prepared in utensils wiped with it or to eat from plates on which it had been used. It is customary for housekeepers to apologize for a dirty, foul smelling dish-cloth by throwing the blame on their hired help. This is doing a great injustice.

When a girl starts to wash dishes she is supposed to have a clean dish-rag, a clean dish-pan, clean hands, clean water, a piece of soap and a lot of soiled dishes; if the soap does its work properly, then at the end of the operation, the dishes should be clean, and her hands, her dish-pan and her dish rag should be clean; the dirt should be in the water, just as when a woman is done scrubbing a dirty floor, the dirt should be in the water, and a clean house cloth and a clean scrubbing-brush should be the result, provided that the soap which he uses has been made from pure, sweet materials.

A girl cannot scrub properly with a miserable apology for a scrubbing-brush; neither can she keep her dish-cloth sweet unless her mistress furnishes her with soap which will do this, for it is an undoubted fact that when a dish-rag gets offensive, or a sponge or a wash-rag loses its sweet, clean appearance and smell, it is on account of the soap which is used. It is an unfortunate delusion on the part of the general public that "any kind of fat will answer for making soap." This is a decided error; it is just as important that the dishes from which we eat should be washed with soap made from pure, sweet, clean materials, as it is important that the butter which we eat should be made from pure, sweet, clean cream.

Housekeepers usually attempt to overcome this result of the soap they use making the dish-rag filthy by scalding or boiling the dish-rag, but this is only a make-shift—use a soap which is made from pure material, and your dish-cloth will then not need either scalding or boiling, and once a week have the dish-rag brought in the parlor, and if not sweet, change the soap you are using, and keep this practice up until you come across a soap that will keep the dish-rag clean and sweet.

A New Fashion Among Birds.

[Lond'n Standard.]

That birds are imitative creatures has long been known. Many species will simulate the notes and calls of others with such accuracy as to defy detection, while some will imitate the noise made by animals, or even the human voice. Hitherto, however, the imitations have been supposed to be purely vocal, each species retaining its own manners, flight and walk, regardless of those of its fellows. Many of these are distinctive and peculiar enough, none more so than the flights of the tumbler pigeon.

No naturalist has, so far as we are aware, hitherto ventured to grapple with the problem of why this kind of pigeon should have taken to throw somersets in the air. Other varieties of pigeons have apparently equally failed in understanding the matter. They may often be observed watching the performance with an attention and gravity savoring of reprobation, but they are never seen to attempt an imitation of it. It appears, however, that other birds are taking the matter in hand, and there is a prospect, if the fashion spreads, that tumbling may in time become generally popular among the winged race, and that even the sparrow, as he descends from the house-top to the road, may deem it necessary to throw himself head over heels half a dozen times.

The jackdaw has been the first bird to follow the fashion set by the tumblers. A correspondent of The Field has seen a pair of these birds near Sherborne following some tumbler pigeons and imitating their flight so accurately that at a short distance they might be mistaken for them.

The Lucifer Match.

[Inter Ocean.]

A Buffalo paper has been asking its readers to name the ten most important inventions of all time. The most votes were cast for the telegraph, printing press, steam engine, cotton-gin, telephone, mariner's compass, gunpowder, sewing machine, telescope and photography. Most of these, it will be observed, are comparatively recent inventions. Strange to say, none of them mention the lucifer match. In its utility to the human family it is far in the lead of the telephone, the sewing machine, or photography. The fellow who would have to walk half a mile for a shovel of coals, with the mercury below zero, would likely a knowledge the fact. The value of inventions cannot always be estimated by the amount of dollars and cents they yield.

In Professor Blackie's Class.

[St. James' Gazette.]

In Professor Blackie's class, Edinburg university (crik—crik—crik)—If that noise is repeated I shall request the nine compoop who made it to leave the room. As I was saying, the Gaelic language (crik)—Will that baby with the rattle stand up? No! Then if this is repeated I shall—hum, ha! The Gaelic language (crik—crik—it is most pitiful that the rest of the class does not take in hand the punishment of this creature (crik). I won't stand it. Are you the tomfool, Brown, or you, you with the curly hair? or you, or you, or you? No! Then there is a liar in the class. A liar! A Scotchman, and a liar! The Greeks called their liars—Ah, what? It was the ventilator! Why didn't you say so before?

A thorough trial will give positive proof of this.

Hardened Liver.

Five years ago I broke down with kidney and liver complaint and rheumatism. Since then I have been unable to be about at all. My liver became hard like wood; my limbs were puffed up and filled with water.

All the best physicians agreed that nothing could cure me. I resolved to try Hop Bitters: I have used seven bottles; the hardness has all gone from my liver, the swelling from my limbs, and it has worked a miracle in my case; otherwise I would have been now in my grave.

J. W. Morey,

Buffalo, Oct. 1, 1881.

Poverty and Suffering.

I was dragged down with debt, poverty and suffering for years, caused by a sick family and large bills for doctoring.

I was completely discouraged, until one year ago, by the advice of my pastor, I commenced using Hop Bitters, and in one month we were all well, and none of us have seen a sick day since, and I want to say to all poor men, you can keep your families well a year with Hop bitters for less than one doctor's visit will cost. I know it. —A Workingman.

A BY-LAW

Respecting the Expenditure of the Municipal Revenue for the Year 1885.

Be it enacted by the Municipal Corporation of the City of Victoria as follows:

1. It shall be lawful for the Finance Committee of the said Council to arrange for and obtain a credit by way of overdraft upon current account with the Bank of British North America to an amount not exceeding in the whole the sum of $25,000, including the now existing overdraft.

2. All moneys so overdrawn shall be used for the ordinary current expenditure of the said Corporation, and shall be repaid to the said Bank on or before the 31st day of December, 1885, out of the Municipal Revenue of the said Corporation for the current year.

3. This By-Law may be cited as the "Bank Credit By-Law, 1885."

Passed the Municipal Council the 17th day of June, A. D. 1885.

Reconsidered and finally passed the Council the 24th day of June, A. D. 1885.

CITY AND PROVINCE.

—The Olympian brought 25 tons of bonded freight and 75 tons of Dominion merchandise.

—Sergeant Shephard, of the police force, has been unwell for the past four or five days, and off duty. He will be all right again in a day or two.

—Smallpox is reported to exist among a lot of Barclay Sound Indians, encamped near Port Blakely. The officers of Kitsap county drove them off.

—Messrs. Shakespeare and Baker will render an account of their stewardship to the electors, at the City Hall, on Monday evening next.

—Mayor Rithet presided at the Police Court this morning, during the absence of Mr. Johnson. His Worship would make an excellent police magistrate.

—The Poodle Dog Rotisserie is now open. The urbanity of the proprietors is only surpassed by the excellence of the bill of fare.

—C. D. Rand has resumed business and has taken an office on Bastion street over Dr. Chipp's where he will carry on business as a real estate broker and insurance agent.

—The revival services held last evening in the Y. M. C. A. rooms were well attended and much interest taken. Dr. Graves will preach this evening in Temperance Hall, Pandora street. All are cordially invited.

—Officer Stewart handed in his resignation to the Council last night and it was accepted. Mr. Stewart has been on the force of this city over two years, and has always shown himself to be efficient in the discharge of his duties.

—The locomotive is on the track at Oyster Bay, where there are about 4000 tons of rails. At Oyster Bay there is half a mile of track laid from the wharf to the right of way. It is expected the rails will be laid to Chemainus river by the 15th of August.

—The Madison Square Company will not play in Tacoma or Seattle, and will go from here direct to Portland. No satisfactory arrangement could be made with the theater people in those cities, and engagements were cancelled without feelings of regret. The cities in question will lose more than the company.

—The failure of Tai Chung Yuen, alluded to in these columns last evening, is for a large amount, variously estimated at from $50,000 to $75,000. The creditors are mostly in Victoria, and some of them are in for larger sums. San Francisco and Hongkong firms are also interested. An assignment will probably be made for the benefit of all the creditors.

—The court reporter of the Colonist in his report of the addresses of counsel in the Hibbs' case, gives Mr. Hett six lines, Mr. Walls three lines and Mr. T. Davie seventy-three lines. Possibly his respect for, and appreciation of the respective gentlemen are in proportion to the space accorded to each. The reporter was a lawyer.

—A circular has been issued announcing the following round trip excursion rates from St Paul and Minneapolis to the Pacific: For a party of ten, $165 each; fifteen, $160; twenty, $155; twenty-five, $150; thirty, $140; thirty-five, $130; forty, $120; forty-five, $110; fifty, $100. The party must travel together westward, stopping over in a body desired. They may, however, return singly.

—The St. Paul Pioneer Press announces that arrangements have been completed to establish daily market reports from fifty of the most important points along the line of the N. P. R. This includes points in British Columbia, and embraces a territory of 5000 miles. The reports will show the prices of grain, produce, fruits, live stock, etc., and will be issued weekly. They will be posted on bulletin boards, put up in all the principal business houses, hotels, chambers of commerce and places where people congregate.

The German Indians.

The names of the Indians taken away by Prof. J. Adnan Jacobson are: Ya Coutlas, chief; Ick-Lehoneh, Ka-che-lis, Ham-Chick, Huck-Mulshe, Isk-ka-lasta, Que-nah, Elk-gut and Pooh-Pooh. They are under contract for nine months at $20 per month, with the Royal Berlin Museum. When they return to their brothers of the Bella Coola tribe, they will each be putting on German airs, smoking a Deutch pipe and absolutely refuse to get drunk on anything else than lager beer.

Immigrant Sheds for Victoria.

The government advertise for tenders for the erection of immigrant sheds for this city; tenders to be received up to the 18th August. Plans and specifications can be seen at Hon. Mr. Trutch's office on and after Tuesday next, 14th August.

The Canadian Pacific Loan.

A cablegram to the Toronto Globe announces that the Messrs. Baring informed the correspondent of that journal that the applications for the £3,000,000 first mortgage bonds of the Canadian Pacific railway company fully cover the amount issued. The subscription list closed to-day.

Coming to Victoria.

The Geo. W. Elder, which sailed for this city yesterday, from San Francisco, brings the following passengers: J H Kuarston, C S Roache, F Tendron, W C Graves, Mrs Dyer, J G James, G Richley and son, E Moore, N Hilton, B V Lowe, H P Cramer, E Dyer, Ting Kong Wong Chun, G M Nass.

Body Recovered.

The body of a Chinaman, supposed to be a workman on the C. P. R., returning to Victoria on his way to China, was taken from the Enterprise to-day. The sum of $385 was found on his person. The body will be brought to Victoria and an inquest will be held.

The Queen Aground.

The Queen of the Pacific on leaving Port Townsend this morning, ran aground at Point Hudson, and up to 3:30 this afternoon was not yet afloat. She will be got off to-night, and will leave here to-morrow. The accident was due to a dense fog prevailing at the time.

Theater Comique.

This place of amusement repeated its performance last night to a fair house. The several performers acquitted themselves with their usual ability and were frequently applauded.

Re Gallick.

Mr. Mills desires to thank his learned friend for the "enthusiastic" report which appeared in the Colonist to-day.

FULL COURT.

(Before Hon. Justices Crease, Walkem and McCreight.)

July 30, 1885.

In re John Martley, application, by way of petition, to appeal against a judgment of Mr. Justice Walkem, given at Clinton on the 1st day of October, 1884. The facts in connection with this matter are these: On the 25th day of July, 1884, Robert Carson and Joseph Ehalt, of Pavilion Mountain, obtained a record from F. Sones, Assistant Commissioner, under the Land Act, 1884, of 250 inches of water each, to be taken from Pavilion Creek to use on their farms on Pavilion Mountain. The petitioner, John Martley, considering himself an aggrieved party and affected by such decisions of the Commissioner, appealed against same to Mr. Justice Walkem, at Clinton, on the 1st of October, 1884. This appeal was dismissed with costs. The application to-day was for leave to appeal against the last decision. The full court was unanimously of opinion that no appeal would lie, and dismissed the petition accordingly. Mr. A. E. B. Davie, Q. C., for petitioner, Mr. D. M. Eberts for Messrs. Carson and Ehalt.

Carson vs. Martley—An appeal from a decision of the Chief Justice, was adjourned till to-morrow, as the papers in the case had only been handed to the judges.

Wraight vs. Young will probably be heard to-morrow.

POLICE COURT.

[Before R. P. Rithet, Mayor.]

Andrew Olson, a fisherman from the Columbia river, was charged with carrying concealed weapons. He pleaded guilty, but explained that he had only arrived in the city yesterday, and was ignorant of the law. He was allowed to go, the pistol to be held until he leaves the country.

George Lamson, drunk and disorderly, fined $5 and $1 costs.

An Indian, for being drunk, was fined the usual amount, $5.

John McDonald, drunk and disorderly; fined $5.

Tai Chong Yuen Failure—A Contradiction.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES:

SIR,—In an article published by the Colonist this morning, relative to the failure of the firm of Tai Chong Yuen, a statement is made that the failure of that firm is due to "losses sustained through the failure of Graham & Busk and others." This appears to be a wilfully erroneous statement, as the firm of Graham & Busk do not owe the firm of Tai Chong Yuen a single dollar, that firm's claims having always been paid in full, and generally in advance of the date upon which payment was due. I should be glad if you would make this statement as public as you can.

CHARLES WESTLY BUSK.

Victoria, July 30, 1885.

The Wreck.

The wreck of the ill-fated Enterprise was visited yesterday and to-day by a large number of people. At high tide she is pretty well submerged. Mr. Harman and assistants are at work recovering everything that is movable. The shore is strewn with debris—baggage, blankets, etc., and the carcases of the dead cattle are floating in the water near by. From appearances, it would seem as though the old steamer had made her last trip.

Sickness.

There are quite a number of cases of diphtheria in the city at present. One medical gentleman informed our reporter that he had four cases on hand, and he supposed many of the other twenty odd physicians in the city were also treating patients with the same disease. A number of cases of malarial fever are also reported, but typhoid is happily not so general as it was some time ago.

Legal Notes.

Judge Crease will give judgment in the Hibbs' extradition case to-morrow at 10 o'clock.

The Gallick case was again adjourned until Friday at 10 o'clock.

MARINE NOTES.

The sailing of the Queen of the Pacific is postponed until to-morrow, in consequence of having run aground at Port Townsend.

The steamship Wellington, having discharged the flat cars at Oyster Harbor, arrived at Departure Bay on Saturday morning, and took on a cargo of Wellington coal for San Francisco.

Capt. Calhoun, formerly master of the bark C. O. Whitmore, has been transferred to the bark Ceylon, and Mr. Thomas Thompson, formerly mate, has been promoted to the command of the Whitmore.

The bark C. O. Whitmore on her last trip from Humboldt to Port Townsend, in 35 degrees north latitude and 135 degrees west longitude, passed through an immense school of mackerel. The captain reports that they acted in the water precisely the same as the schools in the North Atlantic.

The ship Bonanza, which arrived in San Francisco on November 14, 1882, from Havre, has been idle ever since, and only made a start a few days ago by sailing on a coasting voyage to Puget Sound.

The work of raising the Earl of Dalhousie in San Francisco harbor has been a heavy undertaking, and a number of unsuccessful attempts were made. It is estimated that it will take fully $60,000 to raise and put the vessel in a seaworthy condition again. New spars and rigging will be absolutely necessary.

The secretary of the U. S. treasury has issued the following circular to customs officers in regard to the entry and clearance fees of coastwise vessels on the northern frontier:

The attention of the department has been directed to the inequality of the fees exacted of vessels clearing from a port in one district to a port in another district, and to vessels clearing from a port in one district to a port or place in another district in which there is no custom house, on the northern frontiers.

There will henceforth be charged on the northern, northeastern and northwestern frontiers the following fees:

For all coastwise entries of enrolled and licensed vessels at a port in one district from another district, each 10 cents.

For all coastwise clearances of enrolled and licensed vessels from a port in one district to another district (except where a vessel clears to a port or place in another district at which there is no custom house, having on board cargo destined for said place, the fees provided for paragraphs 10 and 11, section 4332, R. S., according to the burden of vessel, each 25 or 50 cents.

For all other clearances to ports or places in other districts at which there is no custom houses than the one specially set forth above, each 10 cents.

The Rajah.

The presentation of this bright and charming comedy, by the Madison Square Theater Company, headed by that prime favorite, Mr. Wm. H. Gillette, promises to be an event of considerable importance. The play, the company, the scenery and the name of the people presenting it, will unite in attracting a large and favorable audience. The company is generally regarded as the most complete and evenly balanced comedy organization now traveling, as will be seen by the following splendid cast of characters: Harold Wyncot, the Rajah, Mr. Wm. H. Gillette; Gladys Wyncot, his ward, Miss Maud Haslam; Joseph Jekyll, a self-made attorney, Mr. W. A. Kennedy; Emilia Jekyll, his daughter, Miss Maud Giroux; Richard Jocelyn, Jekyll's clerk, Mr. Frank Tannehill, Jr.; Mr. Job, Jekyll's assistant and echo, Mr. Hal Warren; Mrs. Pringle, house keeper of Wyncot Lodge, Miss Fannie Addison; Buttons, a servant, Mr. Geo. R. Boaler; Cragin, leader of the strikers, Mr. H. A. Moray; servants, footmen, colliers, etc. The scene is in England; time, the present. Act 1st—Interior and grounds of Wyncot Lodge. Act 2nd—Room in Wyncot Lodge. Act 3d—A glade in Private Park in the Wyncot estate. Act 4th—Room in Wyncot Lodge. "The Rajah" has now a record of over 1000 performances, including a run of eight months at the Madison Square Theater, New York.

Died from Exposure.

Yesterday afternoon Dr. Milne was requested by the officers of the Indian Department to attend a klootchman who was lying ill in a house on Store street, at the foot of Herald. He did so, and found her suffering from inflammation of the lungs. During the night, while, it is supposed, in a delirious condition, she eluded the lax vigilance of her tillicums and escaped from the house. She was found this morning near the foundry by Officers Grant and Welsh, dead, from the effect of the disease, hastened by exposure. It was not deemed necessary to hold an inquest.

"The Professor" at the Philharmonic Last Night.

William Gillette's four-act comedy, "The Professor," was played by the Madison Square company at the Philharmonic last evening to a fair-sized and appreciative audience. The principal character in the piece was taken by Mr. Gillette, who convulsed the audience with laughter. The "child in the woods" was well sustained by Miss Jackson. The acting of Miss Addison, Messrs. Wise, Kennedy, Moray and Tannehill Jr., was good throughout, and repeatedly elicited the plaudits of the audience. The company appear to-night in "The Rajah."

Construction on the N. P. Railway

Gen. Anderson, Chief Engineer of the Northern Pacific railway, reports that work is progressing satisfactorily on the Cascade division. On the west end the larger force is working. It has completed about thirty-four miles of track east from Tacoma. On the east end the grading force is now two and a half miles west of north Takima. Between the two gangs there is a gap of 122 miles. It is impossible to tell how long it will take to finish the work, as a part of it is the long tunnel through the Cascades.

THE SCHOOL ELECTION.

The Investigation Blocked by Non-Attendance of Witnesses.

The investigation into the irregularities at the recent school trustee election was continued to-day, before the Superintendent of Education, in the Legislative hall. None of the witnesses put in an appearance.

Mr. James Fell, the complainant, gave evidence as to the objections to the vote of George North. The records of the land office had been searched and the only lot registered in his name was one on the northwest corner of Johnson and Quadra streets, where he resides, and which is not in Yates street ward, where he voted as a freeholder. Mr. North had stated that Mr. Hayward had called upon him, with the declaration paper already filled, and when Mr. Hayward was told that he did not reside in Yates street ward he replied that "it would be all right," and on his advice he signed it.

In regard to the objection against Mr. Theodore Davie, Mr. J. Fell said he had examined the records of the land office and found no property registered in that name in Yates street ward, where Mr. Davie had voted. Mr. Davie had been asked at what time he purchased the property on the corner of Bastion and Langley streets, but did not answer.

The objection to Mr. W. H. Howarth's vote was that he was not a householder. Mr. Taylor, for whom Howarth works, informed Mr. Fell that Howarth slept with him in a room behind the workshop on Johnson street, and had no other habitation.

Mr. Rithet had been spoken to, and he claimed to be a registered freeholder and that his office was a place of "residence."

Mr. Thornton Fell renewed his application that the Superintendent would request the attendance of witnesses. He compared the duties of his position to those of the chairman of a committee of the House, who was not made a party to an investigation because he at times summoned witnesses to give evidence. Secretaries of committees were also called upon to issue invitations of that character but their doing so did not identify them with the proceedings on either side.

Superintendent Pope said he was here to take down evidence and to report everything brought to his notice to the government. By requesting witnesses to attend he would only be making a laughing stock of himself, as the parties summoned would pay no attention to the invitation. He expressed his willingness to do everything in his power to facilitate the obtaining of evidence, but was of the opinion that he would not be justified in granting the request. His duties were defined by clause 14 of the School Act, which reads: "Within twenty days after any complaint shall have been made to him respecting the mode of conducting any election of Trustees (as hereinafter provided for), to investigate such complaint and report the facts to the Lieut.-Governor in Council, who shall confirm or set aside such election; and in the latter case he shall appoint the time and place for a new election in such district."

Mr. Thorton Fell said that with him it was not a question of expense, as he was prepared to pay witnesses if they would come and give evidence, but as they would have to testify in a measure against themselves it was obvious that they would not attend unless at the invitation of the Superintendent.

Mr. J. Fell remarked that one of the peculiarities of the election was that Mr. Hayward had been made a magistrate on the 12th of May, and on the 18th of May, six days after his appointment, began swearing in voters.

Mr. D. W. Higgins appeared at this stage, and was asked by Mr. T. Fell to state the date on which he had sold the property on Bastion and Langley streets to Mr. Theodore Davie. He replied: "I decline to answer any question bearing on the matter."

The investigation was then concluded. The Superintendent will report to government; the report will probably be pigeon-holed, or, possibly the gentleman who presides over the educational interests of the province will give some sort of a decision, when more urgent business does not interfere. A prima facia case has undoubtedly been made out.
